FORMAL RECEPTION AT THE TWO EXCHANGES.

How the Visitors Spent Their Time and What They Think of Memphis.

The Missouri excursionists were up betimes yesterday morning taking in the eights of the city. Some in public conveyances and others, and by far the larger number, on foot, preferring to stroll leisurely and drink in the reauties of the Bluff City at theirease. At 100 clock a party numbering some-thing like 100 persons, inc uding twenty or twenty-five ladies, of a type of beauty that our local bachelors are auxious to see more of, repaired to the Genteel Household Furniture at Auc-Cotton Exchange where they were recaived by street extended, MONDAY, October

PRESIDENT W. J. CRAWPORD, who addressed them as follows; "LADIES AND GENTLEMEN-It gives me pleasure to welcome you in our midst and to tender you the hospitalities of the Memphis Cotton Exchange. The city of Memphis is but on the threshold of her prosperity, and the predictions of her future greatness that have long been entertained here are beginning to be accepted with credit by thinking men everywhere. It is here that the rich grain harve is of Missouri will some day seek an ounce to the stronght as doubtless some such thought as ay seek an cullet to the see, and it is that inspired this excursion. so, it proves that the citizens of Clinion and neighboring cities whose representatives are before me, are peopled by live, energatic and enterprising men, constantly on the alert for new fillds of industry, and quicker and more profitable avenues of commercial development. If such be your mission, gentlemen, you are thrice welcome, but be your errand what it may, business or pleasure, you are equally welcome, and I gladly tender you the hand of cordial greet-ROOMS-Pleasant furnished rooms, with board, for ladies or gentlenen. President Crawford's remarks were heartily applauded, and when silence was restored, JUDGE B C M'BETH, the leader of the Clinton, Mo., Bar, stepped forward and in behalf of his party said:

"MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN:-I have been delegated by my friends and fellow cit zens who surround me, to act as their spokesman on this in-teresting occasion, and to express their thanks for this graceful welcome. I could have wished that the duty had fallen into abler hands, and that some gifted ora'or had been chosen to perform this duty. The city of Clinton, from which most of us come, is more than ready and willing to extend the hand of fellowship to the Bluff City, whose hospitality we are now enjoying. The geographical position of the two cities is such that an interchange of courtesies and the es ablishment of intimate commercial relations cannot fail to prove mutually profitable. Stated in p'ain business terms the situation is this: You have got something that we want, and we have a variety of things that you must have. You need our corn, and our mules and horses and other live stock, and we need the products of the trop ical climates, which can be purchased nowhere to cheaply as here. Louisi and sugar and rice, Florida oranges and the products of the West In-dies can here be purchased on better terms than we have been receiving, because you are nearer than we to the point of production; and, on the other hand, the shorter distance from here to the sea must make it prefer-CHEAPEST—$3300 improved property in the city. THE CUSTON HOUSE.

STATEMENT FROM MR. G. S. JOR. DAN, REMOVED

To Make Room for Capt. Thomas F. Tobin, Who Takes Charge of the Building Today.

UNITED STATES CUSTOM HOUSE, MENURA, October 13, 1886,

That I may be correctly placed in my connection with Capt. Thomas F. Tobin, the newly appointed custodian of the United States Castom House at this place, which the Ledger of evening, in a paragraph headed "Mr. G. S. Jordan to turn over his work to Capt. Tobio," does not do, but rather makes him, by not staring what his office is and its duties, my successor as Superintendent of Construction of the Custom House, I beg to say that he is not more than the custedian of the engineering instrument, place of work already completed, books, papers, etc., connected with this office, together with all work finished or in course of completion, the latter, so far as authorized by the department, being an iron fence for the sou hern boundary of these grounds, which was authorized a month and a half ago from Kenton, O I advised the department that the last work authorized, the putting down of coment walks on the grounds, would be completed by the 15th of October, and naving been previously requested, in contracting for the work of said walks, not to exceed a certain limit, as the available appropriation for the Custom House was nearly exhausted, I fully anticipated that I would no longer be needed, as the work for which I was first appointed, that of the reconstruction of the west retaining wal, together with the subsequent work ordered upon the recommenda-tion of the Inspector of Public Build-ings, W. E. Speir, of Washington, when here last June, being all finished save the iron fence, which will not be in place for a month or more, as the patterns for the same had to be mediand I was not surprised whe received the following department of the contract of the system Mr. G. S. Josian, Superintendent Custom House, sec., Memphis, Tenn.; Sin-I inclose you herewith letter of even date from the Honorable Acting Scretary of the Treasury discontinuing your services on the 15th inetant. over the work and all books, papers and other government property remaining in your possession to the custodian, Mr. Thomas F. Tobin. Take his receipt in detail therefor, and forward the same to this office for examination and file. In this connection I should state that the above action is rendered necessary by the near comof the appropriation therefor. Re-

spectfufly yours,
THOMAS D. FISTER,
Acting Supervising Architect. The economical methods of the present administration admit of expense which can be avoided, and it vill, doubtless, make use of the skill of Capt. Tobin as an engineer, requiting him for his ability with the usual thanks for all gratituitous work, ten-dered alike by individuals and States. I retire from the position believing that I have had performed work of the best character, and I am conscious of baving in every way acted in the interest of the government, as much so, indeed, as I could possibly have done for myself.

Superintendent of Construction, Cust House.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Mikado ballet grows nightly more ropular, and is alone worth the price

Mr. Hobert H. Mantell, Well known to all play goers as the most charming romantic, emotional actor identified with the American stage and a great favorite with Memphis amusement patrons, will mence an engagement of five nights and Saturday matinee at the Memphis Theater on Monday night, October 18th. Mr. Mantell will appear in his new play, Tangled Lives, in which he has made a pronounced success in the principal Northern and Eastern cities, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings and Saturday matinee. Friday night has been set apart for the production of the Marble Heart, on which occasion Mr. Mantell and the entire strength of the company will appear. mence an engagement of five nights will appear. Robinson's Museum,

As Monday, October 18th, the open-ing day of the above house approaches, our amusement going public, both old and young, become more impatient for the grand event. The management have in store a long list of curiosities, freaks of nature, etc., which will more than repay them for patiently waiting. Mr. E.gene Robinson, the genial manager, arrived in this city yesterday from New Orleans, La., and reports the opening of his muteum in the Crescent City an unbounded success, this being his fourth season, and he looks forward to his opening in this city with confidence, hoping to surpars all previous efforts in this line of amusement. Mr. Robinson and his able assistants have spared no pains or labor in their exertions to make the opening a grand gala day, and Mr. Robinson has also lavished money and skill in beautifying his museum, which will present a most attractive appearance on the opening. The museum will now be in daily receip: of collections, etc., by express. Yesterday the express company unleaded a rare collection of animals, birds, monkeys, reptiles, etc., which were immediately placed in their new quarters in the measgede department of the museum.

Cot on Exchange and an interchange of friendly greeting with its members, the party proceeded to the Merchants' Exchange, where they were welcomed in a brief speech by President W. J. Chase, who then introduced the HON. D. P. HADDEN,

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN - It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to Memphis, the future great city of the Southwest. You are citizens of a great State [app ause], perhaps the great st in the great West [applause], and your visit today cannot but re-sult in good. Memphis has a great destiny before her, and the world is just beginning to find it out. In a few years we will have a bridge connecting with the Arkansas shore, and that bridge, ladies and gentlemen, will be in the nature of a funnel through which the wealth of the great West will be poured. [Ap-West will be poured. [Appleause.] Railroads will come here not from choice, but of necessity, and that bridge will be the magnet to draw them. [Applause But, ladies and gentlemen, the pros cannot destroy. He can only improve them.
